

Codiac Regional Policing Authority

Policy #: G-405
Category: Financial Oversight
Subject: Membership in Associations
Date: Insert
Review Cycle: Year 3/5
Review Date: 2023

Framework

Police Act

Section 17.05(9) of the Police Act provides that a “regional policing authority may provide a reasonable remuneration for members of the regional policing authority who are not members of a council and may provide for the payment of an allowance to members of the regional policing authority who are members of a council.”

Section 17.06(1) provides that “each year a regional policing authority shall prepare a proposed budget, being an estimate of the money required for the next succeeding fiscal year for the provision of police services within the region and the expenses of the regional policing authority.” (Emphasis added.)

Municipal Agreement

Pursuant to Section 7 of the Municipal Agreement, the administration, accounting and payment of all invoices and expenses of the CRPA shall be carried out by the City of Moncton. Upon receipt of invoices from the CRPA, Moncton shall, in turn, invoice Riverview and Dieppe for their respective shares, which invoices must be paid within 30 days of receipt.

Policy

The Codiac Regional Policing Authority (CRP Authority) supports the participation of CRP Authority members in associations that share common interest with the Authority and that advocate in support of community safety and security and innovative community-oriented responses to policing. Where, upon a request from a member, the CRP Authority determines that a corporate membership in such an association is appropriate, the CRP Authority may approve such a membership. The membership fees may be submitted for reimbursement by the CRP Authority.

Examples of organizations that may warrant support and membership include:

- Canadian Association of Police Governance (CAPG)
- Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (CACOLE)
- Any other associations deemed appropriate by the CRP Authority